Discussions focused on the advancements in key work packages, including the development of the B.COMP e-Learning Campus, online learning activities, and the piloting phases. Recommendations for the validation and certification of work-readiness skills were also a central topic, with an in-depth analysis of the first piloting phase results, methodologies used, and insights gained from the valuable feedback provided by VET teachers and trainers. These discussions helped identify solutions to challenges encountered and laid the groundwork for the second piloting phase.

Refining Dissemination Strategies

The meeting also addressed the dissemination strategy, reviewing the materials developed so far and making adjustments to ensure effective communication of the project's results. Plans for upcoming multiplier events were finalized, including their objectives, formats, and logistical details, ensuring a cohesive and impactful dissemination effort among stakeholders.

Additionally, the team assessed progress on quality assurance indicators and outlined the next steps to maintain high standards. The meeting concluded with a recap of key points, establishing deadlines, and scheduling future activities to maintain momentum and ensure alignment across all partners.
